

Too hard

It was too hard
to leave that place
It was too hard
to lose a chance
but I realised
the change - has needed, has needed.

1)

It was too hard
to leave that place.
It was too hard
to lose a chance
again again, again again..

2)

It was too hard to say goodbye to my friends
It was too hard
to leave familiar space and the hardest thing – I know it's not the last time when I have to continue in the wandering.

3)

Every single place where I come I can feel like I am lonely strange passenger on the boat, even waves are crying.
That's why you can see on my face tears.
Don't ask me what is wrong with my knees cause when I knelt down it was plenty years ago, ago.

4)

I'm sitting on the ground railway station, platform number one.
My train is late like everytime in my head browse a lot of plans for next few minutes, for next few days for next few years, even for next few decades.

The point is, the point is I am

CH:

I am patient and I'm waiting for tomorrow, it's up to you if you damn me instead of follow
me, than we could borrow
one nice rhyme:

Om Hare Krishna, Hare Ram...

CH:

I am patient and I'm waiting for tomorrow, it's up to you if you damn me instead of
follow
me, than we could borrow
one nice rhyme:

Om Hare Krishna, Hare Ram...